Andrew's Experience

As an experienced R&D Tax Incentive consultant, Andrew possesses a comprehensive understanding of the technical and taxation aspects of the incentive, as well as the ATO/AusIndustry review and audit processes, R&D governance, and Advanced and Overseas findings. Andrew is passionate about innovation and partnering with clients to unlock their full business potential through government funding and innovation incentives.

With an extensive experience across various sectors, including advanced manufacturing, software development, food and beverage, biotech, agriculture, and waste management, among others, Andrew provides bespoke advice to clients of all sizes and industries, including multinationals, ASX100, SMEs, and startups. Andrew can assist with assessing eligibility of activities, simplifying complex reporting and claims processes, and reviewing R&D expenditure to assist with compliance. Andrew is committed to providing a personalised service ensuring that each client receives tailored attention that aligns with their unique business objectives.
